

BOSTON UNIVERSITY

WALTHAM, MA CAMPUS

The Center for Digital Imaging Arts at Boston University is pleased to welcome your strategic event associates to our campus for the second annual RUFF CUTZ Indie Film Conference (RCIFC).

At CDIA we encourage and support our students to exercise their artistic/creative talents through the art of filmmaking; to realize professional opportunities in their chosen career; and to challenge the boundaries of their career imagination. RCIFC is a fine example of what CDIA endeavors to impart to our students, providing a unique educational experience for emerging artists to showcase their work and acquire intimate audiences with notable industry professionals.

Your event team possesses a healthy combination of innovation, ambition, passion and professionalism – all of which shall serve to act as a great example for our students, while also offering them a unique event atmosphere filled with the “artistic entrepreneurial spirit” we hope to instill in each of them.

Hosting RCIFC at CDIA represents a unique opportunity for engaging an enthusiastic student body composed of vital, creative, talented filmmakers.

We look forward to helping your event achieve a wider, more spirited reach in the New England area. Thank you for sharing this opportunity to showcase emerging art and film with our students, and the public as well.

Very truly,
